A responsive advisor and diligent problem solver, Vincent Jones provides prudent counsel to clients navigating a wide range of high-stakes real estate transactions.

Vincent focuses his real estate practice on acquisitions, dispositions, development, and leasing matters. His experience includes performing due diligence for real property matters, including reviewing title, survey, and zoning. Vincent is adept at drafting purchase agreements, closing documents, amendments, resolutions, and consents for special purpose entities and other ancillary documents. He also has experience reviewing leases and drafting abstracts for clients and performing gap analysis between forms of lease agreements and executed lease agreements. As real estate deals come together, clients rely on Vincent to manage the deal process, design and maintain closing checklists, and prepare and finalize closing binders. Vincent is known for his calm under pressure and his meticulous commitment to getting the details right.

Prior to joining RSHC, Vincent worked as a summer associate in the real estate group at an Am Law 200 global law firm, where he represented clients in a wide range of real estate matters. Vincent volunteers with The Law School Mentor, a nonprofit organization that pairs law students with young attorneys to provide mentorship and networking opportunities.
